Overview

PIVS is committed to providing a safe and caring environment and culture which enables positive relationships to be formed amongst all students and staff which encourages self-esteem, cooperation, personal growth and a positive attitude to learning and teaching. Our Bullying and Harassment Policy exists alongside the School's Behaviour Management Policy and Codes of Conduct. When necessary, this policy is discussed with children as are the rights and responsibilities of each child, the meaning of bullying (including cyber-bullying) and harassment and what to do if they or someone they know experiences them.

What are bullying, cyber-bullying and harassment?

Bullying can be done in various ways including physically, verbally, socially and psychologically and can be in person or via online platforms. It is behavior directed towards a less powerful person or group (or that is perceived as vulnerable) or behavior by a person or group with perceived power or status that is intended to cause harm, distress or fear. See Schedule A for a list of Definitions.

The list below includes, but is not limited to, examples of bullying behaviour. A student is experiencing bullying when they are subjected to such behaviours in an ongoing way.

- Hitting, pushing, kicking, punching etc.
- Humiliation, put-downs, name calling, mocking, shaming ignoring, exclusion, racism and racial slurs, homophobic or transphobic comments
- Initiating or spreading rumors or sharing private and/or sensitive information
- Staring, dirty looks, sharing inappropriate notes or drawings
- Exposing others to inappropriate content
- Encouraging or requesting others to act in a certain way or undertake activities that would be harmful to themselves or another person

Cyber-bullying consists of psychological bullying, conveyed through an electronic medium such as mobile phone, online platform or social media. It can be verbal (over the phone), or written and can include threats of any nature, sharing of a person's private or personal information, harassment about a person's characteristics including race, sexual or gender identity, cultural background, mental health or other vulnerable characteristics, sending inappropriate or prohibited content.

Harassment is any verbal, physical or sexual conduct (including gestures) which is uninvited, unwelcome or offensive to a person.

When people are bullied or harassed some effects might be anger, embarrassment, fear and humiliation, loss of self-confidence and reduced function and potential.

How does cyber-bullying differ to traditional bullying?

1. Availability – It can occur anywhere and at any time. Misperception that there are no real-world consequences for online actions.
2. Anonymity – The impression of anonymity in the 'online world' leads young people to feel less accountable for their actions and provides a false bravado to would-be bullies.
3. Geography – Rather than being limited to the schoolyard, cyber-bullying can operate wherever a young person uses the internet or a mobile phone, which occurs in most areas of a young person's life.
4. Impact – The internet provides the means for 'bullying' comments to be available to a wider audience. Through social networking sites, these comments can be viewed by potentially an unlimited number of people. The impact of and embarrassment caused by these statements is increased many times over.

5. Intent – A private message or joke that is forwarded on may become offensive or harassing even though that was not the intention of the original sender.
6. Permanence – Verbal comments are fleeting. Online content is tracked and stored and can potentially resurface at any time.
7. Applicability – Anyone can be a victim – students, teachers, parents.

What is not bullying

There are also some behaviours, which, although they might be unpleasant, inappropriate, or distressing, are not bullying:

- mutual conflict- which involves a disagreement, but one without an imbalance of power. Unresolved mutual conflict can develop into bullying if one of the parties targets the other repeatedly in retaliation
- single-episode acts of inappropriate behaviour directed towards an individual or many different people, is not bullying
- social rejection or dislike is not bullying unless it involves deliberate and repeated attempts to cause distress, exclude, or create dislike by others.

However, these items may still be a breach of the Student Code of Conduct and may also be dealt with under the Behaviour Management Policy.

Addressing the risk of Harassment, Bullying & Cyber-bullying at PIVS

PIVS will address the risk of bullying and cyber-bully in the school community by;

- Promoting and supporting the development of respectful and meaningful relationships between students, staff, families and members of the community.
- Training staff to recognise harassment, bullying and cyber-bullying, respond confidently and appropriately, and to understand that harassment and bullying behaviour should not be ignored.
- Encourage staff to share their concerns with other school personnel to raise awareness of suspected instances of bullying to ensure that further incidents are quickly recognised and can be dealt with promptly.
- Ensure that all members of the school community understand their obligation to report accounts of suspected harassment, bullying or cyber-bullying to Mentors or the School Principal in line with the Concerns & Complaints Policy.
- Bullying & Harassment is included in our Social & Emotional curriculum including what to look for and actions for students to take if they are experiencing or witnessing bullying or harassment.

Bullying – What should you do if it's happening to you?

- If any of the above behaviours are happening to you or someone you know, you / they should:
- Tell the person to STOP and if possible walk away
- Tell a Mentor, the School Principal, your parents or another person you trust about it as soon as possible;
- If you cannot talk to anyone you know about it, phone the Kids Help Line on: 1800 55 1800

Procedure Following a Report of Bullying

1. The Mentor who has been designated to investigate the report of bullying or the School Principal asks the student to describe what happened
2. The other student(s) will be asked to describe what happened
3. The Designated Mentor, or School Principal will determine if what has occurred is bullying (including cyber-bullying), harassment or another type of behavior.
4. If it is not bullying, the behavior will be identified as Level 1, 2 or 3 in the Behaviour Management Policy and the equivalent level response will be put into place.
5. If the behavior falls within the definition of bullying (or cyber-bullying) the offending student(s) will be instructed to stop the behavior and his/her parents will be notified.
6. The Designated Mentor or School Principal may decide that a Restorative Practices meeting should occur between the students involved.
7. The parents of the student(s) involved will be informed of this process and the outcomes.
8. If the bullying continues, a meeting will be held with the offending student, his/her parents, the Designated Mentor and School Principal. A Personal Management Plan will be developed at this meeting.
9. The behavior of all students involved will be monitored by all school staff.
10. If the Personal Management Plan is not followed, the question of the offending student's enrolment will be referred to the school board for consideration as per the Behaviour Management Policy.
11. The PIVS Board will either cancel the student's enrolment or place other conditions on his / her enrolment which will be closely monitored.
12. Ongoing support will be offered to the student who has experienced the bullying and group dynamics will be closely monitored by all staff throughout the day.

Student programs will be organized to raise student's awareness about bullying (including cyber-bullying) and harassment, to provide a forum for discussion of matters and to aide development of attitudes and school culture. Some matters will be dealt with formally in the curriculum and in peer support programs, leadership programs, extra-curricular programs and occasional activities run by outside experts and workers.

Documentation

PIVS understands that documentation of known or suspected bullying incidents is a critical component of an effective bullying prevention effort.

Records relating to suspected or confirmed instances of bullying will be determined by the nature of the offence or as requested by the Principal but may be in the form of an incident report, documented concern or complaint, behavioral management record, staff meeting records or individual student file.
